COMPANY BACKGROUND

Devlin & Hale Associates, Inc. (DHA) is an employee benefits consulting and administration firm dedicated to providing the highest quality services to our clients. For its clients, DHA designs, installs, communicates, and administers 401(k) plans, pension plans, profit sharing plans, and 403(b) plans. Although DHA specializes in meeting the needs of small, closely held businesses, its clients range from small local businesses to larger multinational corporations.

Since 1983 DHA has offered full-service employee benefits consulting, communication, and administrative services to a broad range of companies: medical corporations, retail firms, manufacturing companies, accounting firms, law firms, architectural firms, financial institutions, non-profit organizations, and many more. Working with your legal and accounting team, DHA will provide the leadership and back-up support your business demands in establishing, communicating, and maintaining your plan.

Local consulting and communication services are the centerpiece of a successful plan. When DHA is engaged to work with your company, the first step we take is to discuss your objectives, workforce demographics, cost considerations, and employee needs and expectations. We conduct a feasibility study that will help determine which plan design best meets your needs. This feasibility study acts as a blueprint for conferences with company officers and your legal and tax advisors in finalizing the plan.

KEY ASPECTS OF OUR APPROACH

We have a professional staff with broad experience in all aspects of employee benefit design, communication, and administration, dedicated to providing complete, accurate, and timely services.

A team of experienced professionals will be assigned to work with your company on this engagement. Your team will consist of a Consultant and Account Executive. In addition, an alternate Account Executive will also be assigned to handle instances when you are unable to reach your primary Account Executive. The assigned alternate Account Executive will be familiar with the operation of your plan and would be able to assist you.

BENEFITS TO YOUR ORGANIZATION

- The assurance that your plan is in compliance
- Smooth and orderly administration of your plan
- Complete documentation to protect your deductions
- A positive vehicle for attracting and maintaining good employees
- A managed fiduciary liability program

OVERVIEW OF PROGRAM OF SERVICES

Central to the success of a qualified retirement plan is a carefully selected, monitored and communicated investment program. In support of the investment program and investment committee, Devlin & Hale Associates, Inc. has assembled a package of services and products to assist the plan sponsor in all aspects of designing, installing, communicating, administering, and monitoring a plan while simultaneously controlling fiduciary liability. This package is designed to maximize benefits for the employer, employees and their beneficiaries; it produces an outstanding value at a reasonable cost. You get the benefit of a local qualified plan specialist who will make implementing and communicating your plan easy.

QUALIFIED RETIREMENT PLAN NETWORK OF SERVICES MODEL

The operation of a qualified retirement plan consists of five interconnected working parts that interact with each other and determine the success or failure of a plan. The five interconnected parts are: consulting services, compliance services, administration services, education services, and fiduciary services.

Devlin & Hale's network of interconnected services interact harmoniously with your plan and investment program which results in cost and time efficiencies without sacrificing quality.

Consulting Services

Central to the success of a plan is proper design and implementation. For its clients, DHA will:
